RE: Bio Rem 2000

To whom it may concern,

Thank you for calling into our workshop recently and also for providing us with some sample product of Bio Rem 2000. As both our head office companies are Green certified business, we were keen to try the Bio Rem 2000 product not only for effectiveness, but also to join other environmentally conscious businesses in doing our part for the environment.

Our initial tests have shown us that this product is very effective in neutralising both fuel and automotive oils off automotive parts and also our workshop floor. As you have seen for yourselves, we have a huge 10 bay workshop with a large floor area and we have used the Bi Rem 2000 product in our floor scrubber machine which not only cleans the floor, but leaves no slippery residue or smell that normal degreasers possess.

In our trials for use on dirty engines and other automotive parts, we have found the Bio Rem 2000 product to be very effective, in fact completely safe to automotive parts. We have used the product on various types of vehicles from common European makes, as well as Ferrari, Maserati, Lamborghini and Aston Martin that we service. We also found a huge difference when it came to odour once an engine bay is degreased and then the engine started to remove any excess water from electrical parts. A typical workshop degreaser that we have been using gives a foul burning odour until it is evaporated completely from the engine bay, whereas there is no such situation by using the Bio Rem 2000 product.

We recently had a $3500 part damaged by chemicals supplied for use in our parts cleaner, and since this incident we have returned the parts cleaner and now are using the Bio Rem product to clean our parts and to date have had very good success. Especially as in the case of this incident, the slightly higher cost of the Bio Rem 2000 is negated when such expensive and intricate parts are being cleaned safely and we are so glad to have come across this product through your visit to our workshop.

I have no hesitation in recommending the Bio Rem 2000 product for safe and effective use in the automotive industry as the product works very well, and it also is safe to all working areas and surfaces and of course to the environment.

Yours sincerely
